Discover the American Gastroenterological Association (AGA)

The American Gastroenterological Association (AGA) is the trusted voice of the GI community. Founded in 1897, AGA has grown to include more than 16,000 members worldwide who are involved in all aspects of the science, practice, and advancement of gastroenterology.

We're proud to bring you the Crohn's & Colitis Congress®, in partnership with the Crohn's & Colitis Foundation.

Visit gastro.org to discover the many ways AGA can help you succeed in your career. AGA offers IBD clinical guidance and resources to help you keep up to date on IBD care and delivery. We also offer research grants to IBD investigators and the top GI journals. Here is a sampling of IBD resources below:

Clinical Guidance

Access AGA's IBD-related clinical guidance and care pathways to help guide your point-of-care decisions. See AGA's new clinical practice guideline on the pharmacological management of moderate-to-severe Crohn's disease, our Crohn's disease toolkit, and our ulcerative colitis toolkit.

AGA's Journals

AGA's peer-reviewed journals offer high-quality research on current advances in GI and hepatology: Gastroenterology, Clinical Gastroenterology & Hepatology (CGH), Cellular and Molecular Gastroenterology and Hepatology (CMGH), Techniques and Innovations in Gastrointestinal Endoscopy (TIGE), Gastro Hep Advances. We also publish AGA's official newspaper GI & Hepatology News, and The New Gastroenterologist which provides insights for fellows and early career GIs.
